

BOARD PLANS CAMPAIGN FOR SCHOOL UNIT

Council Will Be Asked to Make Appropriation of $100,000

The board of education has once more taken up the battle for a new high school building, or a unit to the present structure.

A definite program aimed to relieve overcrowded conditions was drawn up by board members at their September meeting Monday evening. The program includes:

1.—Passage of a resolution empowering the president to appoint a committee of three to appear before the common council, making formal request for financial assistance.

2.—Requesting clerk of board to get estimates on the cost of a four room barracks building for temporarily relief and authorizing the president to call a special meeting, probably on Wednesday evening of this week, to act on these estimates.

3.—Appointment of Mrs. F. N. Spindler and Mrs. J. E. Hegg members of a committee of two to investigate the feasibility of using churches or other buildings to house high school classes and relieve present conditions.

Snyder Reports Condition

That something must be done to relieve existing conditions, board members agreed after listening to a report from City Supt. H. C. Snyder, who declared that a part of the big enrollment "was entirely unexpected and all of it was more than expected." The superintendent showed that the overcrowded state of affairs is no longer confined to the high school, but has extended to the ward buildings of the city. Increase in the grades has made it necessary to turn overflow students from the high school out of the Garfield school in order to make room for an extra sixth grade for pupils of the McKelvey, Jefferson and Washington buildings.

The total enrollment in the grades to date was reported as 1212 and in the high school 476. Registration at the beginning of the second week of school in past years was far below these figures, it was shown.

Parents are dissatisfied because their children are compelled to travel many blocks to get to school," Mr. Snyder said. "But there is no way out of it. This has been made necessary in order to take care of all the boys and girls. But while the grade situation is bad, the high school problem is much worse. There are more students enrolled than the teachers can handle. We are now maintaining five assembly rooms on the first floor of the high school building, two on the second floor in addition to the main assembly, and one on the third floor, making nine in all. There are four teachers who have no permanent class rooms. We couldn't take care of 25 more students. The use of one room on the third floor where it is necessary to hold classes is unsafe because it has no exit to a hall and if a state inspector should come here now we would be ordered to close it. A physics recitation was held in a sewing room today."

RAILROAD EMPLOYEES WILL MEET SUNDAY

Jewell to Address Men Who Voted Against Acceptance of Wage Cut

Chicago, Sept. 12.—Sixty thousand railroad employees will meet here next Sunday to consider the present wage difficulty with the roads.

The announcement was made today at a meeting by E. M. Jewell, president of the railroad department of the American Federation of Labor.

Jewell, who is to address the membership, would not reveal the nature of his speech. The meeting was called in view of the fact that shop employees all over the country have voted overwhelmingly against acceptance of the wage cut that went into effect

SCHOOLS AT NEENAH BAR TUITION STUDENTS

Neenah, Wis., Sept. 12.—No more tuition pupils will be accepted in the public schools of the city of Neenah. That was the decision reached by the board of education in special session at the high school office following a consideration of public school capacity for enrollment. Tuition students now enrolled will be allowed to remain in school, but no more can be accepted, the board held.

IS SERIOUSLY ILL

Little Hope Held For Recovery of Jas.
B. Carpenter

Word received in this city today from the town of Linwood reports that the condition of Jas. B. Carpenter is serious and there seems no chance for recovery. Mr. Carpenter, who for many years was a local justice of the peace, and represented the Fifth ward as supervisor, is now living with his daughter, Mrs. W. R. Parland in Linwood.

UNCLE SAM PLANNING TO PLUG TAX LEAKS

Tax Dodgers Getting Away With Over Billion a Year,
Claim

Washington, Sept. 13.—Tax dodgers are getting away with more than $1,000,000,000 every year that ought to go into the United States treasury. That was one reason, trades officials and members of congress admitted today, why the rest of the American people are called on to bear such heavy taxes. It is also a reason why congress proposes certain phases in the tax law to plug the tax leaks, to which millions of dollars yearly are lost.

If Uncle Sam could collect every year what he loses because of "tax free securities," he would have to levy $700,000,000 to assets, and $1,000,000 less in taxes on other things, officials agreed.

These tax free securities represent the greatest aid to tax dodging by the rich. It is estimated there are from $14,000,000,000 to $24,000,000,000 of them outstanding. The government cannot touch them with its taxing powers because of a constitutional limitation on its authority. It will take years to amend the constitution to make these bonds taxable, Senator Nathan, and others working on this problem agreed.

Meanwhile they want to plug this tax leak by reducing income rates so the rich men will invest in tax securities.

PROHIBITION MEN ARE UNDER ARREST

Officers Taken into Custody at Madison Face Criminal
Assault Charge

Madison, Sept. 13.—Two prohibition officers were arrested last night on a charge of criminal assault and six alleged moonshiners will have to be released as a result of charges preferred against two men by Al Kurts and a young woman.

Both special officers pleaded not guilty when arraigned in superior court and bonds were fixed at $3,500 each.

Ed Quinland and M. J. Harrington, special officers, according to Kurts, accosted a girl and himself, producing warrants and threatened to arrest them.

Harrington is said to have walked away with Kurts while Quinland remained with the girl. Later Harrington is said to have returned and both men were accused by the girl of misconduct.

TOLL OF DEATHS WILL REACH 250

Total Fatalities in Texas Inland Storm Increase With Late Reports

Dallas, Sept. 13.—The toll of the Texas great inland storm on flood-grew today, as swollen rivers rushed to the gulf. Reports from outlying districts around Taylor brought the toll of unknown deaths in and out of San Antonio, where heavy casualties were first reported, around 175.

San Antonio reported 49 bodies recovered and 14 missing. Taylor and the immediate vicinity reported 35 dead. Thermadore reported 45 dead. Alligator Creek reported seven dead. At Langport the bodies of 23 Mexicans were recovered and at San Gabriel 16 bodies were recovered.

It was a conservative estimate today that the final toll of deaths from the flood would total 250.

STAR WITNESS CHANGES STORY CLAIM OF STATE

Grand Jury Refuses to Indict
Roscoe Arbuckle on Murder Charge

San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 13.—Charges that one of the state's star witnesses had changed her testimony and that another had disappeared were made today by District Attorney Brady, after the grand jury had refused to indict Roscoe Arbuckle for the alleged murder of Miss Virginia Rappe.

The grand jury refused to indict Arbuckle for the murder of Miss Rappe until further evidence is introduced to clear up a dispute. After a six hour session, the jury adjourned today, until more evidence is secured.

Show Girl Reverses Story

The district attorney declared that Miss Prebon, a show girl, in her testimony before the grand jury, had completely reversed her story previously told about what happened at Arbuckle's "wild party," where Miss Rappe is alleged to have received injuries that caused her death. He also asserted that Miss Alice Blake, another guest at the party, and considered an important witness, had disappeared from her home in Berkeley and "cannot be found." Another witness of lesser importance also has disappeared, Brady said.

Influence Blamed

He further charged that the testimony of one of the doctors who attended Miss Rappe, regarding his handling of her illness was "highly that some sinister influence has gotten to Miss Prebon and Alice Blake as well," he said.

"We intend to go to the bottom of this matter and punish those who are guilty, whoever they are. Wealth and influence should not weigh either for or against a man, and they will not. In a nut shell, there is too much money," he said.

Last Saturday and yesterday morning, Miss Prebon told Brady and Detective Captain Matheson that Miss Rappe had told her positively that Arbuckle had caused her injuries, Brady said. Last night, Brady said, when called before the grand jury, she reversed her story entirely. "Whether we shall arrest Miss Prebon on a charge of perjury, cannot yet be decided," he said.

Promises Draconic Action

"We intend to take the most drastic action in the case, and most of all, we are interested in finding out what sinister influence caused her to change her testimony."

"Early last evening, Miss Prebon, when called to be present at the grand jury hearing, refused to sign another formal statement reversing her allegation and told a different and entirely unsatisfactory story."

Mrs. Delmonte Avenger

San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 13.—Roscoe Arbuckle faced his nemesis today. Mrs. Maude Delmonte, who plays the role of avenger in the Rappe-Arbuckle tragedy, took the witness stand at the opening of the second day's session of the inquest today.

"I am here to tell just the truth," she told the coroner at the conclusion of a lecture on the importance of her position as a complaining witness against Arbuckle, charged with the murder of Miss Rappe.

The coroner led Mrs. Delmonte through a detailed account of her automobile trip from Los Angeles to San Francisco in company with Miss Rappe. She testified she was the only member of the party who was drinking when they left Los Angeles a week ago Saturday.

They spent the night at Selma. The next day, Sunday, Mrs. Delmonte said they motored to San Francisco. The party was eating breakfast at the Palace hotel, shortly before noon Monday, she continued, when a boy handed Miss Rappe a note, inviting them to the Arbuckle suite, at the hotel St. Francis. When breakfast was concluded, the party went to see Arbuckle. In an effort to maintain her composure, Mrs. Delmonte took sip after sip of hot water. Her hand trembled as she lifted the cup to her lips. She was dressed entirely in black.

Arbuckle's defense scored an important point, when Mrs. Delmonte described the retirement of Arbuckle and Miss Rappe into an adjoining room from the party, which preceded Miss Rappe's death.

Mrs. Delmonte testified that Miss Rappe had gone into the bath room

THREE IMPLICATED IN DOUBLE MURDERS

Police Have Confession of Leon Parks, Accomplice of Church

Chicago, Sept. 13.—With two confessions in the hands of the police, the grand jury today considered the handcuff murders in which Bernard J. Daugherty and Carl A. Ausmus, Packard Motor Car company salesman, were slain.

Harvey Church and Leon Parks, automobile mechanic, confessed that they together with Clara Wilder, killed the two men to get a $5,400 Packard motor car. Wilder is still sought by the authorities.

Parks today repudiated a confession he made last night, but later signed it.

Parks Tells Story

Chicago, Sept. 13.—Chicago shuddered today at the horror of the last confession in the handcuff murder which took the lives of Bernard J. Daugherty and Carl A. Ausmus, motor car salesman.

Leon Parks 24, unfolded his tale of the murder. Parks said the victims were lured to a basement by Harvey Church, who confessed two days ago, and were beaten with baseball bats after which their throats were slashed with a razor.

Parks implicated Clara Wilder, who is in custody, as the third member of the gang headed by Church, that killed the salesman to get the $5,400 car.

SIMS GIVES TALK

President of Normal Addresses Legion Members at Meeting

President John F. Sims of the Stevens Point State Normal talked to members of the American Legion at a meeting Monday evening in the community room at the Citizens National bank.

He spoke on the plan of education as outlined by the American Legion to the National Education association at its convention at Des Moines, Ia., this summer.

Plans for a membership drive were also laid by Legion members at the meeting. At the present time the membership of the local post of the American Legion is small as compared with the number of ex-service men in the city, and it is hoped to increase the membership by at least 200 men in this campaign.

and Arbuckle followed her in later. The two coming out and standing together in a doorway, Arbuckle, she said, then walked past Miss Rappe and closed the door leaving them alone together in the room.

Previous statements attributed to Mrs. Delmonte, had been that Arbuckle dragged Miss Rappe into the room.

HARDING ON TRIP

President and Party Enjoying Cruise on Mayflower

New York, Sept. 13.—President Harding and his party left Brooklyn navy yards on the presidential yacht Mayflower, shortly after 9 a. m. today for a short run to Glen Cove, Long Island. From Glen Cove, the president and his guests will move to Piping Rock, for a round of golf.

The president will not return to New York City. He will take the Mayflower from Glen Cove and cruise tomorrow, landing at some point for another day of golf before starting his return trip to Washington.

HOUSING SITUATION IN MADISON IS BAD

Hundreds of Residents of Capitol
City Are in Search of Homes

Madison, Sept. 3.—Hundreds of residents of this city are in search of homes. Although the housing situation here is not believed to be as critical as last year because many new homes are being erected, yet dwelling places cannot be found.

Unusual activities in the storage of furniture was reported by all storage houses. Boosts of rents in apartments and houses in all sections of the city going into effect on September 1, is believed to be one of the reasons for the great amount of furniture being stored.

BLASKIEWICZ FOUND GUILTY OF CHARGE

Case Which is Outgrowth of Auto Accident Appealed to Circuit Court

Frank Blaskiewicz, owner and driver of a car which crashed into another automobile on road 18 at Plover Hills on the night of August 28, and who was later arrested on a charge of driving a car while intoxicated, was found guilty of the charge in Justice G. L. Park's court Tuesday.

A fine of $10 and costs of $28.09 with the alternative of spending 60 days in jail was the sentence meted out by the court. Blaskiewicz appealed the case and it will be heard again at the next term of the circuit court.

Six witnesses were sworn by the state. The defendant had none.

CALLED TO CHICAGO BY SISTER'S DEATH

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Marshall to Attend Funeral of Mrs.
Fred Souerby

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Marshall left for Chicago Monday night, called there by the sudden death of his sister, Mrs. Fred W. Souerby, who was Miss Ethel Marshall before her marriage. Mrs. Souerby was taken to a Chicago hospital last week Monday, where x-ray pictures were taken but the physicians were unable to determine her ailment.

While few details of her illness were learned here, it is known that no alarm was felt over her condition and therefore her sudden death on Monday was wholly unlooked for.

Mrs. Souerby's husband is an official of the Keith Car company, a big manufacturing concern in Chicago. The deceased is also survived by three other members of her immediate family, two sons and a daughter. Her father, Jas. B. Marshall, lives in Stevens Point. Two sisters, Miss Jessie Marshall and Mrs. Sanger are in Chicago and there are two other brothers, John in Illinois and James in Montana. Mrs. Walter Bakens of this city is also a sister.

It is expected that burial will take place in Chicago.

NAME WILSON DELEGATE

Robert Lansing to Participate Indirectly in Conference

Washington, Sept. 13.—Former Secretary of State Robert Lansing, one of President Wilson's delegates at the Versailles peace conference, will participate indirectly in the Washington disarmament conference and far eastern conference, Chinese Minister Sze said today.

WEBER HERE ON VISIT

Surprise Band Boys by Calling on Them at Rehearsal

Ernest Weber, engaged in business with his brother, Fred Weber, at Salt Lake City, Utah, surprised the band boys who were formerly under his direction by calling on them during a rehearsal of Weber's band Monday evening. He also led them in playing a couple of pieces.

Mr. Weber arrived in Stevens Point Monday evening from Chicago, and is here on a two weeks' vacation after which he will return to the west. He and his brother are engaged in the manufacture of a soft drink beverage at Salt Lake City.

NEW INDUSTRY TO BE OPENED BY O. L. WEBER

Firm Will Manufacture Specialties for Use of Fishermen

Oscar L. Weber, for upwards of two years manager of the Frost Fishing Tackle company, is soon to engage in business for himself and will devote most of his attention to the manufacture of specialties for the use of fishermen.

Mr. Weber has leased the three Langenberg buildings at and near the intersection of Main and South First streets, now owned by I. Shafan. The structures are being remodeled and all will be in first class condition by the time Mr. Weber expects to open his factory, about Jan. 1. The floor space available is estimated at 10,000 feet.

A large portion of the corner building will be devoted to rest room purposes by the 200 or more girls and young women that Mr. Weber hopes to employ within a few months after he opens for business. Besides an assortment of furnishings for the comfort of his employees, bath rooms will also be installed.

Special machinery and appliances have been ordered for the new factory and will be completed early in the winter.

When Mr. Weber's new factory is opened there will be three concerns of this character in Stevens Point the others being operated by the Frost company and by G. W. Frost & Sons.

LIBERAL POLITICAL PARTY IS PLANNED

Committee of 48 to Test Its Strength in Congressional

New York, Sept. 13.—Plans are being made for a new liberal political party. It will be launched formally this fall and will undergo its first actual test of strength in the congressional election in 1922.

The movement is sponsored by a committee of 48, which is acting independently of any other organization. There will be no attempt at an alliance with the farmer-labor-socialist, single tax or any other parties. In fact, any possible support by those parties will be discouraged, J. A. Hopkins, national chairman of the committee of 48, said today.

He believes the two major parties have "grown to be counterproductive" and "outlived their usefulness" instead of being distinctive. The Republican and Democratic parties now include reactionaries, conservatives, liberals and radicals, he declared. "We believe a great number of voters in the country are liberals. In political thought, it is our purpose to join them in one party, which may even take the name of 'Liberals,'" he said.

Hopkins thus outlined the present plans of the committee of 48.

A national conference will be called this fall, composed of representatives of women and men from all states, for the purpose of adopting a national and state organization plan. A national committee will be elected and organization initiated into each state preparatory to the 1922 election. The heart of this movement lies in the middle west.

EXCESS PROFIT TAX REPEAL DATE SET

January 1, 1922, is Decided Upon by Senate Finance Committee

Washington, Sept. 13.—The repeal of the excess profits tax on January 1, 1922, was decided on today by the senate finance committee. This action marks a complete defeat for Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, who wanted the repeal retroactive to January 1, this year.

The committee's action was based apparently upon the fact that the present year is more than half over, and that corporations have already made provisions for their taxes for this year.

Wausau Farmers Lost $1,000,000 a Day in Declining Prices on Crops

"Decline in prices of farm products" is declared by The Equity News to be "responsible for the dullness," and Editor Tufts, in a comprehensive tabulation covering 13 of Wisconsin's leading crops, proceeds to prove the statement.

"The acreages and quantities given," it is stated, "are taken from the biennial report of the Wisconsin department of agriculture 1919-1920 and the prices from the reports of the department of markets and further verified by Secretary Plumb of the Milwaukee Chamber of Commerce."

The rest of the facts are simply results obtained by a little figuring and they show, like nothing else can, just what is wrong economically in Wisconsin particularly and the United States in general as Wisconsin is typical of agricultural conditions everywhere in this country.

"During the three years of war prices, 1917, 1918, and 1919, it is shown that, Wisconsin farmers received an average of $773,000,000 for the 13 products listed and according to statement made by United States Secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace, farm prices should not have declined more than 30 per cent to enable farmers to meet the increased costs of production and the increased prices of all commodities which they have to buy, including farm machinery and supplies of all kinds.

"On this basis, these 13 products should have brought the farmers $543,450,000, representing a decline or loss of $157,945,000. As a matter of fact, however, the decline was more than 50 per cent instead of 30 per cent and the aggregate loss to the farmers, and through them to Wisconsin business generally, was more than double this amount or the stupendous sum of $390,825,000. This is considerably more than one million dollars a day and even this does not nearly represent all the loss or decline as it only takes into account 13 products while there has been a similar decline in the prices of all other products."

The statement continues: "There is one other point that should not be overlooked. The farmers, like everybody else during the period of high prices, spent their surplus money. They bought machinery, lighting plants, home conveniences. They put in water systems, furnaces, and bath rooms. They bought automobiles and tractors and gas engines. They made a tremendous market for the products of labor. They had the verbal assurance, from those high in governmental authority, that if they would only produce, profitable prices would be maintained so they did not worry about building up a reserve fund to carry them over a year of depression. The result, of course, is that they had no surplus when prices declined, as they did, below cost of production, the farmer's spending money was cut off and he was forced out of the market for the manufactured products of labor."

In conclusion, after showing that low farm prices are of little if any benefit to the consumer, the article closes by saying: "Profitable prices for farm products should become the slogan for every laborer, for every business and professional man, for educators, financiers and bankers as well as for farmers."

The Value of Banks

We have found in an exchange an editorial on banks particularly appropriate in Stevens Point just now, and some selections are made from it and some adaptations of our own. Way back in the beginning, there was no money. The man who made the best buckskin moccasins, traded them to the man who could make maple sugar, and found trades with the man who knew how to trap a bear. No one bought or sold anything, but all exchange was done through trades. Then this business of trading got too complicated, and some wise head thought out the plan of having some medium of exchange—money. Shells were used, wampum was used, bear skins were used, and at last people had so developed that they knew how to dig gold and that became the universal money. One could keep his gold five from one year to another and always it was good for a purchase price of any commodity wanted. Because gold was as good one time as another, people began to save up their gold, and those who did so had money.

The time came, when a goodly portion of the people had some gold, not much, but a little, and each man wanted to save his own. The Normans believed there was strength in union, and strength was needed in those days, for the man with the hardest hitting fist, or the one who could best swing a club, was the boss. Out of this necessity of a union of men to protect their gold, the Normans planned the first bank, and from that first bank has come up our present great banking system.

Even today, people have their choice in how they shall have their money. If one wants to hide his in the wall, he has a right to do so, but money in the wall doesn't finance the business of the community and money in the bank does.

What in the world could we do in this day and age if it were not for the banks? We have to do big things now. Time was, when the few struggling settlers could ford the streams; today we have to have great concrete bridges. Once men could pack their wares on the back of a mule, and there were so few people that everybody could be served in this way. But today we have to have great railway systems, and even they are crowded to death. And every one of these big construction enterprises would have been impossible had it not been for the banks. It takes money to do big things. No one person can rightfully have enough money to make the larger constructions that are necessary in these days for us to live. But the banks bring the money of the people together, and make present day business possible.

How many farms in Wisconsin could have been developed if it had not been for the banks? How many railways could we have by now if we had no banks? How many pure bred cattle could have been brought into this state or any other state if there were no such thing as banks? How many markets could have been developed without banks? The banks have given us a place to sell our produce; they have given us a constant supply of money; they have made the number of poor and destitute in the country a class almost unknown; they have been the backbone of every business, big and small, that has been developed. Portage county, without her banks, would be fifty years behind what she is now. Wisconsin without her banks, would be but a vast expanse of territory, and northern Wisconsin would still be a backwoods.

Talk about taking the natural resources—if it had not been for the banks, the only timber that would have been cut off would be that which the settlers here and there would have cut off in clearing land. Livingstons Africa has no banks, and what's more it hasn't much of anything else, although it is the treasure trove of the world in natural resources. It is a crime against the community, and an injury to prospects of business and employment, to attempt to breed discontent over banks.

A News Staff of City Size

The Journal's report of the Port Edwards fire was written by one of its own reporter staff sent down to "cover" the fire.

The Journal now has three men writing news exclusively and two others who give much of their time to it, a larger force of news-gatherers than is employed on any other paper of its size in the state and as large as employed on any paper in any Wisconsin city twice the size of Stevens Point. It is, therefore, equipped, without slighting local events, to send out its men to report striking events in Portage county and neighboring counties and to give its readers its own information on such affairs, including incidents in connection with them of special Stevens Point significance.

Without wishing to boast of it, the Journal feels it may occasionally call attention to actual facts showing that it is omitting no step needed to keep its service appropriate to the city's worth while.

The Normal School

(By President John F. Sims)
Stevens Point Educational Center of Wisconsin—25th year state normal school.

The Normal school is a technical and professional school in that it prepares its students for a life vocation, that of teaching. The true normal school is to be found in its spiritual force. It must bear the stamp of high purpose, made and revealed by the president and faculty, all of whom possess high notions of the destiny of its graduates, who are to go forth from its portals as missionaries of intelligence, preaching the gospel of enlightenment and social cooperation to the boys and girls of America. The destiny of the nation is in the hands of the normal schools, for as are the normal schools so will the teachers and the nation be.

This, the sixth normal school, was located at Stevens Point after a long and vigorous contest on July 22, 1892 largely through the efforts of Judge B. B. Park, then a member of the board of regents. The original site consisted of five acres bought for the school by the citizens of Stevens Point. In 1893, the state acquired an additional portion of land, making an area of twelve acres.

The school was formally opened, September 17, 1894, with a faculty of twelve members under the leadership of President T. B. Pray. The faculty is now composed of 39 teachers in addition to the president.

Owing to the rapid growth of the school, the legislature appropriated $64,000 for an addition on the west completed in 1901. In 1913 the legislature made an appropriation of $76,000 for the construction of the east wing, which was completed in 1915. This wing houses the home economics department and contains a fine large auditorium with a seating capacity of seven hundred. In the same year an appropriation was made for the building of the home economic cottages, known as the John Francis Sims cottages. These were occupied for the first time in 1915.

The legislature of 1913 also appropriated $100,000 for a girls' dormitory. This dormitory was opened in September, 1917. It affords rooming accommodations to one hundred young women, and the diningroom is constructed on a scale sufficiently large to seat 175 guests.

The Normal school offers a wide range of courses, preparing teachers for all kinds of positions, from rural and primary schools up to and including high schools. Two and three year courses are offered beyond high school graduation. The home economics and rural school departments have proven so efficient that they have achieved a national reputation. The first two years of college work are offered, so that young men and women in Central Wisconsin may secure the first two years of college work near home at the maximum of efficiency and the minimum of expense.

The school invites to its privileges ambitious young men and women who will cooperate with the faculty. It is easily accessible, expenses are moderate, the faculty is strong and sympathetic, the student body is alert and happy, while its graduates are filling positions of responsibility throughout the nation with credit to themselves and to the Normal school. The school invites the cooperation of the citizens of Stevens Point in building up its student body, in cooperating with its efforts, and thanks them for the cooperation which has been generously extended during the past 27 years.

May They Agree

Sincere wishers of peace in America continue to hope for a settlement of the English-Irish controversy despite the aggressive attitude taken by the spokesmen for the two nations.

Premier Lloyd-George, representing a Tory party which has throughout its history steadily opposed popular rights in England and America as well as Ireland, is opposed by President De Valera of the Irish republicans who seems disposed to stake valuable concessions in an effort to get complete separation, and between the two, the one threatening and impatient, the other unreasonable and unregardful of actual conditions, there has seemed to be little chance of an agreement.

But the sober sense of the two peoples is for settlement on terms satisfactory to both. Nature, which placed a sea between Ireland and Great Britain and thus made the two distinct entities, also made the sea so narrow that the two peoples are always to be neighbors. Being such, it is better for both that they get along nicely together. The fewer barriers between the two in government, business and language, the better for both. Great Britain must concede Ireland the right to handle her own local affairs; Ireland should be glad, on the other hand, to have a full partnership in the great British empire reaching all around the world. It would be a calamity for the Irish to be restricted in opportunity to their own little island; with their marvelous energy and ambition, they need the great field of the whole empire in which to work.

England long fought with Scotland and at length came to friendly terms with her, and since then the Scotch have furnished many of the great leaders of the empire in all lines of business and have been a mighty bulwark in war. England which has long fought with the Irish, as did she with the Scotch, ought now to come to terms with them and procure their help in maintaining the empire. A few hundred years count for little in the life of the world, and in time there must be a settlement.

Lloyd George and De Valera may prevent peace now. It would mean only that Ireland would again be held by superior force, and 100 years from now, if Lloyd-George's threat is carried out, the issue will still be unsettled. A free people can only be exterminated or conciliated. After men than Lloyd-George have tried to exterminate the Irish and have failed, Cromwell swept three of the four provinces of Ireland clear of the natives and the sons of the soldiers he planted in their place fought as rebels against his successors in the British government. If force is to be used, England can hold Ireland only where and so long as she keeps an army on duty. In time, whatever happens now, the situation must come around to a settlement on terms of mutual respect and neighborly consideration. Those at present in charge of affairs in both countries can only prevent this age of men seeing the benefits of the policy of friendly settlement and partnership which ultimately must prevail.

City's Accomplishment Is Subject of New Slogan for This Week

GAME FELLOW WANTS CHANCE TO MAKE GOOD

Frank Silwa, Orphan With One Leg, Goes, Opens Shoe Repair Shop In City

Life for Frank Silwa has been mostly a series of misfortunes. When he was a child he was left an orphan. At 12 he started out to make his own living. At 19 he lost his left leg in a sawmill accident. Now, in his twenties, he's having a hard time to make a living.

But Silwa is game and not discouraged. He doesn't want to be an object of charity, but asks only for an opportunity to earn an honest living. With the help of a number of men around town he has been able to open a shoe repair shop at 315 Normal avenue and he's determined to make a go of it.

Silwa came into the Journal office Monday with the following communication which he had written himself and which gives a more detailed story of his life:

"I lost my parents when a boy, and was sent to the Polonia orphan home. I was there until 12 years of age and went to work for a farmer until 19. Then I went to work in a sawmill at Polonia and lost my left leg above the knee and got no money out of it as they carried no insurance. I went to Detroit in hopes of getting work in a factory, but with little education and no trade I found it very hard to live for the last year. At every place I asked for a job this was their answer: 'Sorry, but our insurance does not allow us to hire a cripple.'"

"I came to Stevens Point with the hope that I could make it better among friends than I could among strangers. I went to the Chamber of Commerce and to the Red Cross and asked them to help me get work, but it was impossible for them to do so. I went to the manager of the Stevens Point Journal and he printed an ad for me for two weeks asking for work, without charge, for which I am very thankful to him. But I got no work.

As I have had considerable experience along the shoe repairing line I decided I would try opening a shoe repair shop. I went to A. Myers and Controller G. L. Rogers and, thanks to their help and the help of many others, I was able to open a shoe repair shop at 315 Normal avenue, near the Myers house. I have been open for one week and my customers all seem well satisfied with both work and price. I will appreciate your work and you will be helping me make a living. I will always try to do what is right.

REV. B. O. RICHTER RESIGNS AT SYMCO

Says He Will Take No More Abuse From Members of Congregation

Rev. B. O. Richter, former pastor of the German Lutheran church at Amherst, has tendered his resignation as pastor of St. Mark's church at Symco, Waupaca county. His written resignation, which appears below, contains an admission that his relations there have not been entirely pleasant.

"Whereas it is a fact that members of this congregation consulted other ministers against their pastor without first speaking to their pastor as Matt. 18, demands;

"Whereas it is furthermore a fact that outside ministers have conducted meetings with members of this congregation in the schoolhouse of the congregation, without asking either congregation or pastor, and the pastor being absent at these meetings, yet, even summoned the visitor to these meetings without permission of either congregation or pastor, all contrary to I Pet. 5-2, 'Feed the flock of God which is among you';

"Whereas I do not intend to take any more abuse from members of this congregation, and whereas I do not care to be the cause of disharmony in the congregation;

"Therefore, I herewith resign my office as pastor of the Ev. Luth. St. Mark's church at Symco, Wis."

MAKE MONEY IN BEETS NEW WARD SCHOOL PLANNED AT WAUSAU

Farmers in Drainage District Find Them Profitable Crop

The shipment of table beets from Coddington station to the canning factory at Wausau will be finished the latter part of this week, when the total is expected to reach twenty cars of twenty tons to the car. Growers are being paid $12 per ton and are realizing from $80 to $105 per acre from their product. Lester Adams, who raised just three acres, was paid $205 by the factory.

By the last of September or early in October the digging of sugar beets on the "big marsh" will commence and a conservative estimate of the yield is from 15 to 20 tons per acre. Many of the beets now weigh four to five pounds and this weight will be increased before digging time. The growers are guaranteed $7.00 per ton, with a probable increase should the price of sugar go up. This assures them at least $100 per acre, with a possibility that it may be $150 or better.

Total Cost Not to Exceed $75,000—
Policewoman Will be Hired

The common council at Wausau has adopted a recommendation of its finance committee to have an ordinance introduced authorizing the sale of school bonds from time to time for the construction of a school building in the First ward of that city, the aggregate amount of the bonds not to exceed $75,000. It is planned to have work started at once.

Another important action was the passage of a resolution favorable to the appointment of a policewoman, her duties to begin October 1 and continue for three months, and if the work is successful to allow her to continue in that capacity.

AUTO HITS BUGGY FATALLY INJURING WAUPACA RESIDENT

R. H. Morey Dead After Crash on the Highway—Tragedy in Third To Occur in Family

A tragedy occurred on a highway southeast of Waupaca Tuesday evening when an automobile driven by Erick Kreeger, a clerk at Weyauwega, crashed into a buggy, throwing out its occupants, who were Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Morey and daughter, Marian, and fatally injuring Mr. Morey.

The accident occurred at 8 o'clock and it is said that the lights on the automobile were out when the car bore down upon the horse drawn vehicle. According to Mrs. Morey, her husband drove his horse well over to the right hand side of the road. The car, however, caught the left hind leg of the horse, breaking it above the hock and hitting the buggy with such force that the animal, Mr. Morey and his daughter were thrown forward to the ground. Mrs. Morey is reported to have been thrown upon the front of the automobile and was carried along until the car was stopped. The woman and girl escaped with minor scratches and a bad shaking up, but the man was found to be bleeding profusely and was unconscious. He was taken to the Christofferson hospital at Waupaca, where he died at 1 o'clock Wednesday morning.

This is the third tragic death in the Morey family. An uncle of the deceased, J. J. Morey, was killed by a Soo line passenger train at Waupaca in 1908 and another uncle, Frank Morey, was the victim of a stray bullet while hunting near Cable. The late R. H. Morey was 40 years of age and leaves his widow and three children, Verna, 17, Russell 15, and Marion 10. The funeral was held from the First Baptist church at Waupaca this afternoon.

Past Supreme Dictator, on Tour of United States, Will Visit Here

Past Supreme Dictator Darius A. Brown of the Loyal Order of Moose will be entertained by the local lodge of the order the latter part of this month, when he will visit this city while on a tour of the United States, which will require an entire year to make.

DISEASE IS PREVALENT

Number of Deaths in City and County From Dysentery

The very young and the very old are affected most by the disease, he said. A number of deaths among people in this period of life have occurred, due to the disease.

The prevalence of summer complaint this fall is caused, Dr. Southwick said, by the hot days and cool nights during the latter part of the summer, and from the eating of over ripe fruit and vegetables.

The Farmer's Vacation

comes in winter, if at all. All summer long he is hard at work, knowing little about eight hour days and being deaf to the quitting whistle. Farmers are the back-bone of America. We believe the future opportunity for the Portage County Farmer is in live stock.

This big bank will loan money to Portage County Farmers that desire to improve their herds by adding better cows, pure bred bulls, bucks and boars. We want to loan as much money as possible where it will be the most good to the people of Portage County, particularly where it will help to improve Portage County live stock. ## SPUD INSPECTORS MEET IN CITY TO ATTEND "SCHOOL"

First Car of Potatoes to Be Shipped This Season Leaves Tonight

Twenty-eight potato inspectors from various places in the Stevens Point district of the state bureau of markets, which includes 12 counties, heard R. A. Buckner, Chicago, of the federal bureau of markets explain the various grades of potatoes and methods of inspection at the city council rooms Thursday morning.

The Stevens Point district includes 12 counties as follows: Wood, Waupaca, Portage, Waushara, Shawano, Clark, Marathon, Outagamie, Brown, Door, Kewaunee and Winnebago.

The meeting was in charge of R. E. Ades, Wautoma, chief inspector of the department of markets. James Justeson and Angus McDonald, supervising inspectors, were also present.

Conducts "School"

In the afternoon Mr. Ades conducted a "school" of potato inspection at the Okray warehouse, when a car of potatoes was loaded in the proper manner and the potatoes graded and inspected according to the standard. By adding practice to theory Mr. Ades hopes to give every inspector who came to Stevens Point an absolute knowledge of his work, and secure uniformity of inspection and grading.

Mr. Buckner explained in detail the new Wisconsin Badger brand grade. The new brand calls for a minimum size of one and seven-eighths inches, while the old grade had a minimum of two inches and a maximum of three inches in size. The change in the Badger brand makes it conform with United States grade No. 1, with the exception that the Badger brand has one-half of the total defects of the United States grade, or three per cent. The new Wisconsin Badger is the best grade ever established by a state or federal government.

The old Wisconsin Badger brand was a failure as far as marketing it went. The difficulty of securing large quantities of potatoes of the size specified by this brand made them too expensive, and consequently very few cars were ever shipped out of the state.

First Shipment

The first car of potatoes to leave Stevens Point for market this season left Thursday. This car was the one loaded and inspected under the direction of Mr. Ades, and was consigned by the Okray Produce company.

That the shipment of potatoes this year is far behind that of previous years was borne out today by a statement made by a local potato dealer to the effect that he had not shipped any potatoes out of Stevens Point as yet this season, and before he would be able to, which would not be for several weeks, he would be practically a month behind in his shipments.

Enough for Home Use

No potatoes are being shipped into Stevens Point for home consumption now. The supply of potatoes reaching the local market from county farms is now sufficiently large to fill the local demand. From 100 to 150 bushels are eaten in this city every day, it was reported by a dealer who is in close touch with the city's demands.

The big harvest of potatoes in Portage county is expected to start very shortly. Some farmers whose crops ripened early are now digging, but it will be six weeks, it is stated, before all the potatoes in the county will be out of the ground.

In some portions of the county farmers expect to harvest crops from their fields that will equal the yield of previous years, while in other portions the crop will fall far short, due to the hot dry weather of the past summer. The northern and eastern sections of the county, it is stated, will get good crops of potatoes this year, while only in sections in other places will the yield be up to the average.

WILL RECORDED HERE DIVIDES BIG ESTATE

Interesting Document Drawn By Chicago Man Is Filed in Office of Register of Deeds

One of the most interesting wills ever placed on record in the office of the register of deeds of Portage county, under the terms of which an estate whose value runs into the hundreds of thousands will be disposed of, was recorded recently by Register Ed Larson.

The will is that of James A. Murphy of Chicago. Mr. Murphy was an owner of two lots in Stevens Point situated at the corner of Center street and Minnesota avenue and after his death the First Trust and Savings bank of Chicago, named as the trustee of the residue of the estate, negotiated the sale of the lots to F. A. Jewett of this city. In order to establish the right of the bank to dispose of the property, it was necessary to record the entire will in the office of the register of deeds of this county.

Mr. Murphy, in his will, stipulated that his wife, Ellen May, was to receive $100,000 in cash in lieu of all dower and homestead interests in his estate and in lieu of any widow's award. To 19 cousins and second cousins, all residents of New York state, he bequeathed a total of $62,500, six of these receiving $5,000 and 13 of them $2,500 each. To Jesse H. Smith "for good and faithful service which he has rendered in my employ for many years past," the sum of $2,500 was bequeathed. The sum of $50,000 was given to St. Elizabeth's hospital, Utica, N. Y., and $50,000 to the city of Rome, N. Y., for the establishment of a public hospital.

The will provided that after these bequests were taken care of the residue of the estate was to be taken over by the First Trust and Savings bank, Chicago, to be held in trust to carry out other specified terms. These terms included an annuity of $400 to "Mrs. Stewart, now at St. Elizabeth's hospital in Utica, N. Y., so long as she may live, for her care, maintenance and support." That Mr. Murphy was a lover of horses is indicated by his setting aside of a fund to be paid out at the rate of $500 a year for the care of any driving horses in his possession at the time of his death, this fund being for "the purpose of seeing that such horses may be properly cared for and maintained without labor or hard service so long as each of them may live." The horses, the will instructed, are to be kept at the Murphy Stock farm, at Park Ridge, Cook county, Ill.

In addition to her bequest of $100,000, Mr. Murphy's widow is to receive the sum of $10,000 annually as long as she lives, unless she shall remarry, in which case her annuity is to be cut off. The will also specifies that in case Mr. Murphy left any children they are to receive not more than $2,000 a year each until they attain the age of 16 and from then until they become of age not more than $5,000 a year. From the time they become of age the children, if any, are to receive $5,000 each year until 30, and on reaching the age of 30 will come into possession of the residue of the estate after provision has been made for any annuities then in force under the terms of the will in case the widow is dead or remarried and there are no children of Mr. Murphy, or their descendants, surviving. The balance of the estate is to go to the 19 cousins and second cousins previously mentioned in the will as beneficiaries, all sharing alike.

TAX BILL OF $3,200,000,000

IS ENOUGH, SAYS MELLON

Washington, Sept. 12.—Congress must provide $3,200,000,000 in taxes on the pending revenue bill, Secretary Mellon today told the senate finance committee. "If promised governmental economies are effective, that sum will be sufficient to meet the government's needs," Mellon said.

He recommended specific changes in the tax bill asked by the house, which he said would make certain the collection of the necessary amount.

THREE MORE BOYS ARE GIVEN TERMS IN REFORMATORY

Ellsworth, Bruce and Card Sentenced for Burglary of Cars

Three more youths charged with burglary of Soo line freight cars were sentenced by Judge B. E. Park in circuit court Wednesday.

Merle Ellsworth, who confessed to being implicated in all of the robberies committed by members of the youthful gang, was given four years in the reformatory at Green Bay.

Walter Bruce, implicated in two freight car robberies and alleged to have had knowledge of a third, got two and one-half years.

Cecil Card, against whom charges similar to those against Bruce were preferred, also got two and one-half years.

Parole for Card

Card will be paroled on his application, Judge Park announced. The judge said he was uncertain as to what he would do about Bruce and that he would take a few days to consider whether or not a parole is advisable in his case.

Bruce was severely arraigned by Judge Park, who told him that he had less excuse than any of the others for doing the things he did. With a good home and parents who were able to and did give him every opportunity, he had only himself to blame for his predicament, Judge Park told him.

The court spoke sympathetically to Ellsworth, who wept while in court and appeared to be genuinely repentant. He impressed upon him the gravity of the offenses charged against him and urged him to redeem himself.

After they had been sentenced the three youths were taken to the county jail.

BERLIN PEOPLE HURT ON WAY TO FUNERAL

Folks on Way to Stevens Point in Accident Near Poyssippi Sunday

The funeral of the late Joseph Koschnick was held at 8:45 o'clock this morning at St. Peter's church. Rev. S. A. Elbert officiated and burial followed in Guardian Angels' cemetery. The pallbearers were chosen from among members of St. Peter's society, of which the deceased was a member.

Those from out of the city who were here to attend were: Frank Koschnick, a brother, Manitowish, Mich.; Peter Green, Rhineland; Mrs. A. R. Jeske, Wausau; Lucille Koschnick, Milwaukee; and Evelyn Koschnick, Washington, D. C. The latter are daughters of the deceased.

A party of Berlin residents composed of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Kramp and daughter, Mrs. Margaret, and John Green, a brother of Mrs. Koschnick, were to attend the funeral, but were unable to come after the Kramp car, in which they were driving to this city, struck a bridge.

The accident occurred Sunday evening near Poyssippi. Mr. Kramp was driving and became blinded by the glaring headlights of an oncoming car, being unable to see the side of a bridge just ahead. Mrs. Kramp is thought to be injured internally, and Miss Margaret is absent, while Mr. Kramp and Mr. Green escaped injury, but were badly shaken up.

FIRST STUDENTS ARRIVE

Advance Guard of 8,000 University People at Madison

Madison, Sept. 12.—The advance guard of the army of upwards of 8,000 university students has commenced to move on Madison. Armed with trunks, suitcases and instrument bags, the first of the students are beginning to put in appearance.

Registration days for the fall term are the 19, 20 and 21st of September with lectures and classes scheduled for the 22nd. The students now coming to Madison are mainly members of sororities and fraternities that are coming early to put their houses in condition for the usual rushing that precedes the opening day of classes.

When questioned, Dean of Men S. H. Goodnight said that he did not think there would be a shortage of rooms but that the rooms listed in his office seemed to be going fast. Special approved lists of rooming houses with the prices and accommodations listed are made up bi-weekly in Dean Goodnight's office to facilitate the location of the students.

Approximately one thousand instructors and professors have signed contracts to teach for this year.

CLOSE TO A MILLION IN BADGER SCHOOLS

Census Expected to Show $25,000

Children Attending Wisconsin Institutions

Madison, Sept. 12.—The completion of the present school census will disclose $25,000 children of school age in Wisconsin in the opinion of State Superintendent John Callahan.

The census showed a growth in the number from 810,556 in 1918-19 to 818,885 for last year and it is now believed that this figure will be brought up over the $25,000 mark for this year. Of the total number of school children the last census showed that 471,867 were classed as living in the rural communities while only 347,018 were inhabitants of cities of the state.

Mr. Callahan said that the actual figures of the present school census might not be available for three or four months.

Due to the fact that the apportionment of the seven-tenths of a mill school tax depends on these figures, careful rechecking is always done to insure accuracy in taxation.

ROBBED OF VISION YOUTH IS AWARDED BY AN EDUCATION

After Years of Study John Kostuck Will Teach Blind in South

"There is never a loss without some gain."—Emerson.

Losing his eyesight in a dynamite explosion in 1907, John T. Kostuck, son of Joseph Kostuck of Amherst Junction, has been awarded by a liberal education after years of study, and left his home Friday for Staunton, Virginia, where he has accepted a responsible teaching position in the Virginia State School for the Blind. Most of the subjects he has contracted to teach are in the high school and include salesmanship, commercial correspondence, commercial law, algebra and seventh grade arithmetic.

Prepares for College

The Portage county young man who lost his vision in an explosion in 1907 entered the Wisconsin School for the Blind the following year and remained there until the spring of 1918. During this time he prepared himself to enter college. In the fall of 1918 Mr. Kostuck was matriculated at the University of Wisconsin as a regular freshman. While at the university he took a general course in letters and science and commerce, and in spite of his handicap attended classes along with other students.

Learns by Hearing

The University of Wisconsin has no separate department for the blind and Mr. Kostuck used the ordinary ink print text books, but had their printed contents read to him. A lesson was seldom read to him more than once, except in mathematics. The young man passed in all of his subjects and received good grades in most of them. He returned to the home of his father for a visit three weeks ago.

CASE IS APPEALED TO CIRCUIT COURT

Consolidated Company Protests Payment of $14,000 Damage

The Consolidated Water Power & Paper company, through its attorney, T. W. Brazeau of Wisconsin Rapids, has appealed the decision of the Portage county court commissioners awarding $14,000 to Bernard Galecki of the town of Plover for alleged damage to his land resulting from the raising of the water in the Wisconsin river by the Consolidated dam at Biron.

The appeal to the circuit court for Portage county, which will be heard at the December term, alleges that the amount awarded is grossly excessive. The acreage affected was overestimated by the commissioners, Mr. Brazeau charges, and the rate of award, $70, is almost double that of the just amount, he claims.

The $14,000 award was made at a meeting of Commissioners George H. Attenburg of this city, Frank Guyant of Belmont and M. O'Keefe of Arnott, who were appointed by the circuit court to appraise the damages resulting to farming lands along the river. The meeting was held here last Wednesday.

According to the facts, as brought out before the commissioners, the Consolidated Water Power and Paper company flooded the lands above Biron when the dam was raised, causing the loss of lands to the many owners, the value of which was to be determined by the commissioners appointed by the court. The claim of Bernard Galecki was the largest brought before the commissioners as it was said to involve 200 acres of real estate along the south bank of the river in the town of Plover. After listening to the arguments the commissioners awarded Galecki damages amounting to $14,000, or at the rate of $70 per acre.

Many other claims against the company have been adjusted in the past few months, most of them at an average rate of $40 per acre.

FIRST thing you do next—go get some makin' papers and some Prince Albert tobacco and puff away on a home made cigarette that will hit on all your smoke cylinders!

No use sitting-by and saying maybe you'll cash this hunch tomorrow. Do it while the going's good, for man-o-man, you can't figure out what you're passing by! Such flavor, such coolness, such more-ish-ness—well, the only way to get the words emphatic enough is to go to it and know yourself!

And, besides Prince Albert's delightful flavor, there's its freedom from bite and parch which is cut out by our exclusive patented process! Certainly—you smoke P. A. from sun up till you slip between the sheets without a comeback.

Prince Albert is the tobacco that revolutionized pipe smoking. If you never could smoke a pipe—forget it! You can—AND YOU WILL—if you use Prince Albert for packing! It's a smoke revelation in a jimmy pipe or a cigarette!

ANNUAL POTATO TOUR IN COUNTY SET FOR FRIDAY

Growers Invited to Inspect Fields and Look Over Year's Work

At a meeting of the Amherst Potato Growers' association at the Nelsonville bank last Saturday evening, plans were made for the annual tour of the fields in that locality.

Starting at 10 a. m. next Friday morning, Sept. 16, from Amherst Junction, local growers with their families and friends will visit the Louis Skoglund farm at 10:15 o'clock and go from there to inspect several other fields in that locality. Fertilizer tests being made by members of the Fountain Grove Potato club will also be inspected. About 11:30 the party will reach the Arthur Tobie farm on highway 18, returning to Nelsonville for a picnic dinner in the grove west of the river.

To Visit Marl Deposits

The afternoon will be spent in examining plots and fields on the farms of Carl Waller, Bernard Waller, Morris Anderson, Nels Grayson, L. E. Gordon, A. O. and C. M. Stoltzberg and others in the vicinity. As a matter of special interest to farmers in Amherst and New Hope townships, the marl deposits being worked by H. J. Kankrud at Nelsonville and George Wolting, north of Benson's corners, will be visited.

Object of Tour

The object of the tour is to examine the effect of fertilizers and seed treatment on the potato crop so far as can be determined from the growing plants, and also to observe the effect of the present season on different varieties. Many of the fields to be visited have been inspected by the state and members of the association are now making plans for marketing certified seed. Inquiries have already been received by County Agent W. W. Clark, who is secretary of the association, as to prospects and prices on the crop of seed.

All Growers Invited

Potato growers from all parts of the county are invited to attend this tour and join their friends in a picnic dinner on Friday next.

USE OF EXPLOSIVE TO BE DEMONSTRATED

Stumps and Stones in Portage County to be Removed With Powder of World War

Instead of blowing up Germans, a university expert will use war explosives next week to shoot up local stumps and rocks, according to plans announced by County Agent W. W. Clark.

"Picric acid is a powder made to use in the World War," said Mr. Clark, "but the government has released its surplus stock for distribution to farmers at merely the cost of making it into sticks. A man will be here next week to show us how it can be used in clearing land and we hope to use at least a carload in this county. As many of our men are accustomed to using dynamite they will easily get used to this new material, which costs only about one-third as much as dynamite."

The demonstrator will visit farms in various parts of the county, explaining how to use the picric acid and blowing a number of stumps and stones at each place. Farmers are invited to witness the demonstrations and leave orders for the material with the county agent if they have not already done so. The schedule of meetings is not yet complete, but the following places will be visited:

Monday, Sept. 19, 1:30 p. m., farm of Aug. Meyer on highway 73 near Eau Claire town hall.

WYATT NAME FAVORED

Council to Formally Change Name of Center Avenue

The name of Center avenue is to be changed to Wyatt avenue, honoring the late A. F. Wyatt, for many years register of deeds for Portage county and one of Stevens Point's leading citizens.

"I've got a petition here that isn't going to cost the city a cent," said Alderman M. Donermeyer of the Third ward toward the close of the special council meeting Friday evening. Other aldermen assumed an incredulous look. "It's a petition of residents of Center avenue to have the name of the street changed to Wyatt avenue," Mr. Donermeyer continued. "There's too much confusion with a Center avenue, Center street and Central avenue and the people on Center avenue want a change."

The council couldn't take formal action, the subject not being in the call for the special meeting, but, on request of Mr. Donermeyer, voted in favor of granting the petition at the next meeting.

"I hope that when you're changing street names in the future you'll remember another one of our old and prominent citizens, Dr. G. Rood," Mayor Welsby remarked. "I thought a lot of Dr. Rood and there are a good many others who did, too."

The mayor's suggestion was well received and it is probable that there will sometime be a Rood street or Rood avenue in Stevens Point.

FORMER RESIDENT DEAD

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Sackett drove to Merrill last Saturday to attend the funeral of Harris Upton, a former resident of Stevens Point, who died on Thursday, aged 60 years. # MAY PUT WATER MAIN ON BRIDGE OVER RIVER

If Engineer Says It's Safe, Council Will Allow Water Company To Do It

The Stevens Point Water company has found it impossible to keep the submarine water main extending across the river near the Clark street bridge in service, owing to the action of the strong undercurrent, and has asked permission of the city to string the main on the bridge.

The matter was laid before the common council Friday evening. Mayor Welsby explained that the undercurrent caused by the dam breaks the connections in the pipe and that as a result the entire West side is practically without fire protection. It would be better to have the pipe strung on the bridge, the mayor said, if it could be shown that the added weight would not endanger the structure. The Water company has suggested that a state engineer come here to pass on this question, the mayor added.

City Attorney Atwell, chairman of the board of public works, said that if it should be decided to allow the Water company to place the pipe on the bridge a contract should be made under which the city would grant the company no permanent rights and would be protected from damage. Mr. Atwell explained that the pipe would be enclosed in a frost-proof covering. "If at any time the city thought it best to have the pipe removed the company could be forced to remove it," he said.

The council voted to have a state engineer pass on the question of safety, at the expense of the water company, and if his report is favorable, to enter into a contract along the lines suggested by Mr. Atwell.
